

AMBASSADOR'S MESSAGE

I am delighted to share the latest edition of our Embassy Newsletter covering the period July-September 2017. These three months were particularly important for Pakistan-US relations. On September 19, Prime Minister Shahid Khaqan Abbasi had a very positive meeting with US Vice President Mike Pence in New York. He had a brief meeting with President Donald Trump as well. The Prime Minister also had useful engagements with US media, think tanks and the business community.

The other highlight of this period was the 71st Independence Day of Pakistan, on August 14, 2017. A wide range of Independence Day related activities were organized and attended by the Embassy as well as our Consulates General in partnership with the Pakistani-American diaspora. It was heartening for me to witness the spirit of patriotism and enthusiasm among community members across America.

Apart from a hectic schedule in Washington, I travelled to Boston, Chicago, New York and Orlando where I had the opportunity to interact with several US Congressional representatives in their home districts. I also had the privilege of speaking at a number of think-tanks, universities, media houses as well as interacting with members of the Pakistani American communities in each of these cities.

I hope you will enjoy going through the details of our numerous activities which are covered extensively in this edition.

-Ambassador Aizaz Ahmad Chaudhry

PRIME MINISTER ABBASI MEETS U.S. VICE PRESIDENT PENCE

Prime Minister Shahid Khaqan Abbasi met US Vice President Mike Pence on the sidelines of the 72nd UNGA session in New York. The two leaders held discussions in a cordial atmosphere. Both sides discussed issues relating to bilateral relationship as well as peace and stability in Afghanistan and the region. Prime Minister shared Pakistan's concerns and views with regard to the US strategy for South Asia. Both sides agreed to work together to carry forward the relationship which has been a historic partnership for the last seven decades. It was agreed that the two countries would stay engaged with a constructive approach to achieve shared objectives of peace, stability and economic prosperity in the region.
